

The year is 202X. Alias: "Retired Latin Lover", alias: "The Man of a Million Mistakes", Saadin Dassum. This has-not-been was (un?)lucky enough to make first contact with a woman who chants in an unknown, yet hypnotizing tongue.

Unbeknownst to him, this girl of his dreams (an intermittent siren whom he dubs the "Glasgow Lady") just so happened to show up as our satellites began to pick up a bi-nightly burst of energy from Eridani 1.

Every night, as the sun rises, she's gone.

To him, it's a cruel magic trick. To us, it's just missing intel. Find him. threaten him, bring him in for questioning.

G, Using our AI safety camera network, I've gathered that the Ecuadorian Miami-Based artist has a new project in the works. Dream in Stereo. Admittedly, I like the name myself. He's previously aroused the attention of the Recording Academy, the Miami Film Festival, and the Subtropic Film Festival. He orbits the outcasts and troublemakers of Miami.

He's back to New Wave. Venues likely to take his act are alt and indie. We can use the noise to intercept the target without raising any eyebrows. I'll wait for your green light, and leave OSINT leads at the bottom left of the document.
